FRENCH PREMIER WINS DRASTIC POWERS

Darkening Crisis in France Worries American Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House and State Department watched the darkening French political crisis in silent apprehension today, fearful of its impact on the unity and strength of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Diplomatic officials said it was impossible to predict the outcome of the rapidly developing conflict of forces and personalities in France and Algeria. But many in high position were known to feel that the very existence of the Fourth Republic is at stake.

One possibility causing concern in official quarters was the danger that the French military in Tunisia, commanding 25,000 troops might follow the example of the French army in neighboring Algeria and try to set up some kind of committee to exercise at least a degree of political authority.

The government of President Habib Bourguiba, whose country was a French protectorate until 1956, is understood to have expressed anxiety on this score. Bourguiba has no military force comparable to that of France, which kept troops in Tunisia after granting independence.

In France itself, the carefully timed bid of Gen. Charles de Gaulle for supreme national authority raised questions about France's future world policy.

De Gaulle has long been known as a strong and stubborn man, dedicated to his concept of French interest, insistent on having his own way and often impatient with the views of allies.

One of the questions now being asked here is what would be France's position within the Western alliance should he come to power? Another, would Paris continue to cooperate closely with Washington and London on issues in negotiation with Russia, notably a summit conference?

Already the crisis has substantially destroyed U. S. hopes for the early development of a more conciliatory French policy toward the rebellion in Algeria.

Even if the new government of Premier Pierre Pflimlin succeeds in riding out the storm—the worst in post-war French history — its flexibility to deal with the Algerian situation seems already to have been lost.

High American officials have long feared that French civilian authorities would not be able to solve the Algerian problem and that at some critical moment the military would move to seize power and impose an extreme rightist policy.

Beyond this, U. S. officials have reasoned that the Algerian crisis might very likely grow into a North African crisis, making it increasingly difficult for Tunisia and Morocco to maintain friendly ties with the West. This in turn would open up new opportunities for Communist agitation and for the expansionist aims of President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

Benny Hooper Finally To See Jet Ships

MANORVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Young Benny Hooper finally is going to get to see those jet planes over at Suffolk Air Force Base.

Benny had wanted to go see them on the Armed Forces Day last year, too. His parents were all set to take him.

Instead he fell down the 24-foot well his father had dug in the back yard.

That was a year ago today. Spectators, rescue workers, cars, machinery, reporters, photographers, broadcasters and others descended on the site.

For 24 hours there was a feverish effort to dig Benny out. There seemed little hope. Then there arose a tremendous joyful shout and an electrifying news flash went out: "He's alive!"

Today Benny is just fine, just like any normal 8-year-old boy, says his mother. But things have not been normal for the Hoopers.

In his mother's words, "It's been a very hectic year. People still are very much interested in Benny, wanting to see him and the Hooper home. The phone rings, people drive by and stare, news-men still want interviews."

"People have been very nice to us, but we'd just as soon try to forget it all. We never talk about it at home."

As for Saturday, the anniversary of Benny's rescue, the Hoopers hope to let it go unnoticed.

"We don't expect to be home," said Mrs. Hooper. "We're going to take Benny to the Air Force base. He wanted to go last year, but—well, things happened."

Some Ohio Business Bitter About Ike's New Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is working on a bill that has stirred up segments of Ohio industry as no legislation has been done in recent years.

The bill would extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for five more years, continuing the President's authority to sign trade agreements with foreign countries and cut tariffs.

Some groups of Ohio business and labor—and their representatives in Congress—are bitter. They say competition from lower cost foreign-made products is costing them profits and jobs.

The chief complainants in Ohio are such industries as glass, pottery, stainless steel cutlery, bicycles, coal, oil, ceramic tile and rubber products.

Reps. J. Harry McGregor (R-Ohio) and John E. Henderson (R-Ohio) have spoken up about situations in their districts.

McGregor told the House the trade program "seemingly is driving American industry completely out of business."

Henderson put his criticism this way: "The egg was laid and the chicken was hatched when the first reciprocal trade legislation got on the books. . . . The only solution that I know is that we wring the chicken's neck in some way or

Ike's Trade Bill Wins 1st Test

House Committee OKs 5-Year Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's embattled program for a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade law has passed its first big congressional test.

The administration trade bill is still a long way from enactment. A big battle looms when the measure goes to the House for consideration next week. Then it must clear the Senate.

With Democratic leaders cracking the whip, the House Ways and Means Committee late Thursday completed action on an administration-approved compromise that would give Eisenhower virtually all of his basic requests.

It was an initial victory for the President, who has said repeatedly that U. S. restrictions on world trade would play into Communist hands.

As approved by the committee, the bill includes a five-year continuation of the trade program beyond June 30, with authority to lower U. S. tariffs up to 25 percent more in negotiations of international trade agreements.

WITH IT, however, went a precedent-setting provision for congressional review of the President's tariff authority. The administration accepted this provision, but foes of the program labeled it a fraud and "gimmick."

House high tariff forces, with heavy support from both Democrats and Republicans, joined to back a substitute which in effect would strip Eisenhower of his tariff lowering authority and vest trade powers in Congress itself.

The strategy of reciprocal trade foes was to try to block the House from considering the compromise bill through adoption of procedure making the protectionist substitute the order of business.

Red Scientist Says No Man Aboard Sputnik

MOSCOW (AP) — Prof. Eugene Fyederov, head of the Soviet Union's sputnik program, said today the Russians will launch animals again into space in the future but that Sputnik III carried no passengers—animal or human.

He predicted the third Soviet artificial earth satellite, launched Thursday, would last a little longer than Sputnik II but that it too would disintegrate before falling back to earth.

Soviet scientists, he said, have not yet solved the problem of bringing a satellite back to earth intact.

The Soviet International Geophysical Year Committee called a news conference that established several negative factors about the latest Soviet earth satellite:

1. Atomic energy was not used to launch it;
2. No new fuel — just common chemical fuel — was used;
3. There were no dogs or other animals aboard;
4. Sputnik III will not return to earth by direction.

IN ANSWER to a question from a Communist correspondent, he said lacking any request from the United States the Soviet Union has no plans to show the Americans how to launch a comparable satellite.

The Soviet scientist was asked why Sputnik III carried no passengers.

"Soviet sputniks are launched for a wide variety of purposes," he said. "This launching was designated for geophysical and cosmic research and not for biological research. Biological research will be conducted again in future Soviet sputniks."

Meanwhile, in Cambridge, Mass., the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory reported that several of its Moonwatch teams have spotted Sputnik III.

Sightings in clear weather were reported in the Southern part of the nation Thursday evening and early today.

The U. S. Naval Research Laboratory says that Sputnik III will be visible just before 9 o'clock tonight on a line drawn from Bismarck, N. D., southward to New Orleans.

U. S. scientists also asked Moon-

Pacific War's Unknown Dead To Be Tapped

HICKAM AFB, Hawaii (AP) — A World War II pilot who downed 23 enemy planes selects an unknown fighting man today at the scene of the attack that brought the United States into that war.

Air Force Col. Glenn T. Eagleston, a veteran of 96 combat missions in World War II, will make the selection of the Pacific's unknown fighting man by placing a Hawaiian garland of white carnations on one of six flag-draped caskets.

The ceremony takes place at Hickam AFB near Honolulu, bombed by the Japanese Dec. 7, 1941.

The remains chosen will join their counterparts from the European theater for a final selection at sea on the U.S. cruiser Canberra.

On May 26 one of the remains will be chosen for burial in the Unknown Soldier's tomb at Arlington Cemetery as the unknown fighting man of World War II.

The other will be buried at sea with full military honors.

Thursday, the unknown of the Korean War was chosen in a similar ceremony conducted by the Army at the National Memorial Cemetery.

M. Sgt. Ned Lyne, who won the Distinguished Service Cross for clearing out a machinegun nest in Korea, made the selection.

Honored Safe Driver, Nabbed as 'Careless'

HONOLULU (AP) — Cpl. Herbert J. Morris was cited by his Army military police unit Tuesday for safe driving.

Thursday he got a citation from the civilian police — for careless driving. His car hit the rear of another on Waikiki Street.

Morris said he turned his head to look at a young lady in shorts.

Ike, Kerry Trade Photos

Kerrylin Hopewell, 8, has a new "boy friend" with whom she has exchanged photographs.

His name is Dwight D. Eisenhower. His address is The White House, Washington D. C.

Recently Kerry, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hopewell, 136 McKinley Ave., sent the President two pictures of herself with a brief note.

The President good-naturedly participated in a picture trade. He sent Kerry two of himself.

Proud as punch, Kerry told a Record-Herald reporter:

"I wrote that I am in the third grade at Cherry Hill School and that Mrs. Florence Lust is my teacher."

Mentioning the good grades she got in school, Kerrylin also told the President that she has a 4½-year-old sister, Wendalou.

Kerrylin likes reading and learning poems in literature class, and also composes verse herself. She likes to sketch and color and has been taking lots of pictures since she received a new camera as a gift.

She is active in the Daisy Blue Birds at Cherry Hill School.

Would-Be Cop Is 'Wanted'

HACKENSACK, N. J. (AP) — A man walked into police headquarters Thursday and applied for a job on the force.

Detective Sgt. Leo Liberali gave him an application to fill out. The man wrote down the name of James P. Stagg, 30.

That sounded familiar. Liberali looked over a batch of "wanted" circulars and found the same name. Stagg was wanted for passing a bad check for $70.

He was released in $100 bail for a hearing.

Khrush Offers Aid to Egypt

Nasser Is Promised 'All Help You Need'

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — President Nasser returned home today from an 18-day state visit in the Soviet Union. He brought with him Premier Khrushchev's pledge of "all the help you need from us" to unite the Arab world.

"The Soviet government wants solidarity of the Arab people under your leadership," Khrushchev told the head of the United Arab Republic. He described Nasser as "the outstanding leader of all the Arab peoples."

Speaking at a Kremlin banquet Thursday night, Khrushchev made his remarks pointedly anti-Western by adding that Arab unity under Nasser would guarantee that "colonizers will never return to your sacred soil again."

He did not specify what help Russia might offer. But his remarks were a direct slap at the Western-backed federation formed by Iraq and Jordan as a counter to the Arab world to the U.A.R.

THE BANQUET followed signing of a joint statement in which Nasser, after more than two weeks of Russian hospitality, agreed to the Communist line on most international issues, including the Red drive for a summit conference.

Western diplomats expressed the opinion, nevertheless, that both Nasser and Khrushchev were less than completely satisfied with results of their negotiations.

The joint communique said nothing about the substantial Soviet economic and technical grants Nasser had hoped to get in addition to the approximately $175 million in loans already promised Egypt and Syria. Kremlin leaders were believed to have pressed for closer political ties than Nasser was willing to grant.

'Slow Down' Drive Slated in Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP) — "Slow down and live" handouts will be given to an estimated 2½ million drivers who will be on the state's highways over the three-day Memorial Day weekend.

This was announced Thursday at a meeting of 25 safety groups with Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The handouts will be given to motorists at traffic lights, stop streets and other places where motorists must stop, between noon May 29 and noon June 1.

The safety drive project is planned by the Ohio District of Kiwanis International, the Buckeye State Sheriffs' Assn. and other traffic safety groups.

New Air Guard Jets Delayed

COLUMBUS (AP) — Delivery of newer F100 jet fighters to the Ohio Air National Guard's 166th fighter-interceptor squadron has been postponed six to nine months.

The squadron, based at Lockbourne Air Force Base, will continue to use F84F jets until more "C" and "D" models of the F100 are available.

These models are equipped for bombing as well as aerial combat, officials said.

The postponement means the 166th will train at Alpena, Mich., with other Ohio jet squadrons instead of at Lockbourne.

Ohio Mayors Meeting

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Mayors Assn. of Ohio is holding an organizational meeting here today. More than 100 mayors are attending this first meeting of the new association.

Pflimlin Fears 'Plot' Forming Against Nation

PARIS (AP) — The French National Assembly, meeting under the lengthening shadow of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, today voted Premier Pierre Pflimlin emergency powers to fight what he called "a plot against the republic."

A first unofficial count gave the vote as 461-114, possibly a record majority for any government since World War II.

The emergency powers act gives the three-day-old government the means of cracking down on all forms of subversive activity.

It can dissolve political organizations, arrest and hold suspects, make searches night and day, impose full censorship of press and radio, collect arms, and close movies, theaters and cafes.

Pflimlin, asking for special powers, told the Assembly:

"There is a real plot against the republic and the established order. The government will react with vigor against those who prepared it."

Parliament's upper house was expected to confirm the Assembly vote within a matter of hours.

DE GAULLE's offer to assume full power had plunged France into its blackest postwar crisis.

The bill to place France under a state of emergency just short of martial law sailed through committee 33-6 with only Conservative votes against it.

Pflimlin's country villa at Hendaye was bombed Thursday night and police found two more bombs at the Interior and Economic Ministry buildings in Paris. The bombs in Paris were disarmed before they exploded but the bomb in front of the premier's villa caused considerable damage.

Pflimlin himself was in Paris and no one was reported hurt.

A drizzling rain combined with an Ascension Day weekend to keep crowds down but the National Assembly was ringed with about 1,000 special security troops as the session started before packed galleries.

PFLIMLIN HAD asked the Assembly to approve a bill declaring

Judge Found Innocent in Libel Action

NAPOLÉON (AP) — Fulton County Common Pleas Judge Donald C. Van Buren Thursday was found innocent of having libeled David Caswell, who in 1954 was sentenced by Van Buren on a larceny conviction.

Caswell was convicted of larceny in the theft of a $600 power saw. Later, however, the 6th District Court of Appeals ordered a retrial because of a technicality.

In the retrial Caswell was found innocent. He then filed suit for $20,000 damages against Van Buren for illegal imprisonment and also for libel because of a statement the judge made to the Cleveland Plain Dealer newspaper after the retrial was ordered.

The Ohio Supreme Court, in 1956, dismissed the illegal imprisonment charge and sent the libel accusation back to the common pleas court.

The Henry County common pleas court jury deliberated an hour Thursday before returning its decision vindicating Van Buren of libel. The case was heard here on a change of venue from Fulton County where Caswell was originally convicted of larceny.

Caswell also has a libel suit pending against the Plain Dealer for printing the statement Van Buren made.

Tot Is Killed In Lion's Cage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lion pulled a little girl into a cage at the Washington Zoo today and mauled her to death.

The child was 2½-year-old Julia Ann Vogt of Chillwack, British Columbia. She was here visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson.

She was taken to the zoo by her grandfather, who was in such deep shock after the tragedy that he was unable to give a clear account. But police said the girl apparently made her way through an outer barrier and walked too close to the cage.

Northridge School Marm Wounds Man

DAYTON (AP) — A 44-year-old school teacher, Mrs. Willa Gregory, is being held by police today without charge after she shot and wounded a man three times Thursday after apparently lying in wait for him, officers said.

The victim, Fred Hayes, 38, was shot as he walked out of his apartment near downtown Dayton. He is in satisfactory condition in a hospital with wounds in the head and lower abdomen.

Police quoted Mrs. Gregory as saying she shot Hayes with a .22 caliber revolver because he had spent $7,000 of her money.

Police said Mrs. Gregory apparently was waiting for Hayes outside his apartment and when he walked out she began shooting. Detective Sgt. W. C. Stevens said the first volley of shots missed Hayes, and Mrs. Gregory began to run. Hayes ran after her tackling her in the street, Stevens said.

Mrs. Gregory struggled free, stood up and fired three shots at Hayes who was still lying in the street. She gave herself up when police arrived.

Hayes' wife, Doris, was at work when the shooting occurred.

Mrs. Gregory is a fourth-grade teacher at Grafton-Kennedy Elementary School, Northridge.

Tennessee House Impeaches Judge

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — With only seven dissenting votes, the Tennessee House of Representatives today impeached Chattanooga Judge Raulson Schofield. His case now goes to the state senate for trial.

The action means Schofield is suspended from office until the trial is completed.

No date has been set for the impeachment trial.

The accusations against Schofield first were brought to light during a hearing in Washington last winter by the U. S. Senate Labor Rackets Committee.

Putney was fined $250 on the DWI count.

Sputnik

watch teams to try to find an American-made five-foot tube tumbling in an orbit at times possibly 2,000 miles or more from the earth. It's the final rocket section that tossed America's so-called grapefruit satellite, Vanguard I, into an orbit so high that it may continue circling the earth for two centuries.

THEY SAID the final stage rocket, launched March 17, has not been sighted for weeks.

Vanguard I is earth's highest man-made satellite, reaching to 2,461 miles in space at its high point and 408 miles at its low.

Two of this country's top defense officials, Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker and Garrison Norton, assistant secretary of the Navy for air, discussed satellites and missiles in separate talks Thursday night.

Speaking in Ogden, Utah, Norton said the United States now has rockets powerful enough to boost into orbit a two-ton satellite — a half-ton heavier than the satellite launched by Russia Thursday.

NORTON DID NOT say why the United States has not launched a larger satellite. But he said the smaller ones put up by this country are providing the information deemed necessary at this time.

America's largest satellite to date weighs 31 pounds.

Brucker told a Portland, Maine, audience the United States will have Russia ringed by operational intermediate missiles by December.

He said Russian intercontinental ballistic missiles probably are still without the necessary guidance systems and re-entry nose cones to make them effective weapons of war.

The United States was ready to launch an Army Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile at Cape Canaveral, Fla., but postponed it at the last second early today.

Technical difficulties were blamed for the postponement, but no details were given.

The last Jupiter was launched five months ago. A spectacular weapon, it has covered 2,200 miles during tests at Cape Canaveral.

Russia's big Sputnik III was sighted by moonwatch teams from Florida to California.

Some observers reported sighting both the satellite and the final stage rocket.

Bricker Asks Curb On TV Networks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) contends that television networks must be brought under government regulation in the public interest.

Bricker made the statement in connection with plans by the Senate Commerce Committee to open hearing June 2 on his bill to bring networks under Federal Communications Commission control.

As matters stand, Bricker said, the major TV networks exercise monopolistic control over programming by compelling stations to accept network-sponsored or network-produced programs.

Parents of 28 Favor Plan

Advanced Courses Are Likely For Top Eighth Graders Here

Indications are that eighth grade students with an unusual aptitude for learning will be given an opportunity to take a special accelerated course in mathematics and science in Washington C. H. Junior High School next year.

The plan for broadening the education opportunities for these students with a "superior potential" was explained to the parents of 35 of seventh graders (who will be in the eighth grade next year) a week ago. They were asked to "think it over" and give their decision by June 15.

Superintendent W. A. Smith said Friday that 28 of the parents had notified him that they were in favor of the accelerated course, that five had said they were not in favor of it and that two had not given their answer.

SMITH said that, in view of this response, he would recommend to the school board at its Monday night meeting that steps be taken to set up a special section for these students.

He said he was "very pleased" with the attitude of the parents and expressed the conviction that the students in the section would be able to progress more rapidly in their schooling.

However, the superintendent emphasized that the accelerated math-science plan is on an experimental basis and added that it will be watched carefully.

The section for these students will be taught by the regular teachers, the superintendent said; the only difference will be that they are given advanced assignments and advanced studies in mathematics and science.

The accelerated course is designed to give students with a "superior potential" an opportunity to develop their abilities to the fullest extent.

The 6-foot-4 pianist recently won the International Tchaikovsky Piano competition in Moscow and has been the toast of Russia ever since.

French Situation

a state of emergency in France, a condition just short of martial law.

As all but the extreme-right backers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle cheered repeatedly, he reported on the takeover of power in Algeria by army officers and militant French nationalists and announced the first emergency measures already had been taken.

Speculation that Lt. Gen. Raoul Salan, the army commander in Algeria, might be siding with Paris against the De Gaulleists was dashed by a spokesman in Algiers.

Salan had issued a statement earlier in the day saying he alone was charged with civil and military power and made no mention of the safety committee set up by De Gaulle supporters in Algiers in defiance of Paris.

The spokesman, Leon Delbeque, said Salan ever presided over committee meetings, strongly supported the return of De Gaulle to power and had the committee's trust. Delbeque said Salan, however, was exerting no pressure for the return of De Gaulle.

Pfllimlin had delegated civil and military power in Algeria to Salan after the committee of public safety were set up. The committees now control most of the Algerian towns and cities after ousting the civilian authorities.

DE GAULLE'S most solid support came from Algeria, where a junta of military officers and ultra-nationalist French civilians have established an extra-legal government in the form of Algeria-wide committees of public safety.

Taking their name from the days of the reign of terror after the French Revolution, the committees bypassed the officials appointed by Paris and even had some of them taken into custody.

They set up their own government, pledging themselves to bring De Gaulle to power in Paris so that there could be no compromise in the war against the independence-seeking Moslem nationalists in Algeria.

DeGaulle's sudden re-entry into politics, coupled with the turmoil in Algeria, created an explosive situation in Paris. Nationalistic young men and older right-wingers, who look to De Gaulle for leadership, might take it as a signal for an attempt to seize control of France by outright force. Communist and Socialist leaders of the labor unions service notice they would call strikes and demonstrations to bar any attempt at "personal power."

Workman Overcome By Chemical Fumes

A Bloomingburg area man was overcome by fumes early Friday while unloading chemicals from a boxcar at the American Agricultural Chemical Co., Robinson Rd.

In "good" condition at Memorial Hospital is Harry Jones, 28, of Glaze Rd. He was unloading chemicals when he was stricken. Fellow workers, unable to revive him, brought him to the hospital.

Treated in the emergency room at the hospital Thursday was Jerry Parr, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parr of Route 6, who was injured when he caught his foot in a bicycle chain.

Mrs. Nannie Hughes of 706 S. Fayette St. was treated after she fell at her home, fracturing her right wrist.

Turnpike to Lease Its Patrol Cars

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission Thursday decided it was cheaper to lease 42 patrol cars at $209 a month per car than to own and operate the cruisers itself.

The commission unanimously voted to rent 42 Plymouths from Spitzer Leasing Inc. of Elyria, which submitted the lowest bid.

The 34 patrol cars and eight staff cars now being used on the turnpike will be sold to Spitzer Motors of Elyria, Inc., which is connected with the leasing firm. Spitzer Motors' bid of $25,450 for the 42 turnpike-owned cars was the highest, the commission reported.

Few Changes Seen Today in Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices pursued an uneven course in moderately active trading early this afternoon. Most changes of key stocks were slight. A few stocks went a point or so to the plus side.

The lower-priced issues continued active and posted some small gains. Considerable caution was in evidence, in view of the political crisis in France and trouble elsewhere.

Steels, coppers, chemicals, farm implements and oils were mixed while rails were off a bit on average. The news was a bit better concerning auto assemblies, railroad carloadings and construction contracts.

Bell Aircraft cut its dividend to 35 cents from 50 cents and the stock opened down 1 1/2 at 17 1/2.

Youngstown Sheet dropped about a point. Gains of about a point were made by United Aircraft and Allied Chemical. Polaris rose 1/4 to 6 1/2. American Motors remained a favorite and added a fraction. Continental Motors and Solar Aircraft also rose slightly. U.S. Industries and Studebaker-Packard were about unchanged. Zenith was down about a point.

U.S. Steel, Chrysler, Goodrich, Caterpillar, Boeing, Du Pont, Consolidated Natural Gas, General Electric, Lorillard, Standard Oil (N.J.), Loew's and Twentieth Century-Fox made small gains.

International Harvester, Kennecott, Union Carbide, American Tobacco, Texas Co., Royal Dutch and Eastern Air Lines declined slightly.

U.S. government bonds showed an upside tendency in slow transactions.

Jeff Scout Troop To Go to Camporee

Most, if not all, of the 20 Scouts in Troop 67, sponsored by the Gold Star post, American Legion, at Jeffersonville are planning to spend the weekend at the camporee at Camp Pine, A. P. Whitmer, post commander, said today.

At the camp, they will join other scouts from Fayette and Highland counties for the two days and one night when they will relive the days of the Old West with a mock gun rush.

They are to join the other Scouts at the camp site on the Flakes Ford Rd. at 11 a. m. Saturday, spend the night there and return Sunday afternoon. Carl West is the scoutmaster of Troop 67.

Other Fayette County troops that will be at the camporee are Troop 112, sponsored by the Hughey post of the Legion, Troop 303, sponsored by the South Side Church of Christ, and Troop 336, sponsored by the Milledgeville Methodist Church.

The lowest spot on earth is the Dead Sea near Jericho, Jordan, which is 1,300 feet below the level of the Mediterranean Sea.

Patrolman Named Chief of Police At Wilmington

WILMINGTON — Stanley Irwin, Wilmington police patrolman and twice an acting chief, has been named chief of police here ending a long tangle over succession.

Irwin's appointment was made following grading of a civil service examination in which the former sergeant competed with Sgt. Frank Copeland, a fellow officer.

Irwin was first named acting chief last Jan. 1 by Mayor Thomas W. Downing in one of his first official acts as head of a new municipal administration. He served for 90 days, went back to patrolman briefly, and was reappointed acting chief.

He was ruled ineligible to compete in a civil service exam for chief given March 31. Wilmington's three sergeants, Copeland, Donald Leonard and Thomas White, participated in the March 31 exam, and none achieved a passing grade.

White is now under a 30-day suspension with pay, ordered by Safety Director Charles Hart Jr. The latest exam was given Monday night.

DuPont Investment Groups Rap Justice Agency Move

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Du Pont investment companies declared Thursday that an antitrust proposal by the Justice Department would virtually confiscate their 667 million dollar interest in General Motors Corp.

These firms are the Christiana Securities Co. and Delaware Realty and Investment Co. which together own 29 per cent of the Du Pont Co.'s outstanding common stock.

The two firms were found innocent of any violation of law in the antitrust suit the government brought against Du Pont, General Motors and others.

In a memorandum to the U.S. District Court the two companies said the government plan for compliance with a Supreme Court decree would be confiscatory. The memorandum added:

"All of this would be strong medicine, indeed, even for a law violator; it makes no sense at all when imposed upon innocent parties without any real need in terms of the objectives of the cause."

The firms approved a counterplan by Du Pont to divorce itself from General Motors while at the same time protecting stockholders from a possible five billion dollar loss in their investment.

The Du Pont proposal was filed Wednesday in U. S. District Court in compliance with a U. S. Supreme Court ruling which directs Du Pont to give up ownership of 23 per cent of General Motors.

Du Pont said a Justice Department proposal made in October 1957 would cause forced sales of stock and tax penalties that could result in a tax and market value loss of about five billion to stockholders of the two concerns.

Its plan, Du Pont said, would satisfy the high court's mandate without penalizing nearly 900,000 stockholders.

The company's alternate plan would not involve sale of the motor firm's stock but would prevent Du Pont from voting it or having directors on the General Motors Board. In effect, Du Pont would only collect dividends from the GM stock.

Starkweather Data Is Read to Jury

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The reading of conflicting statements and letters by Charles Starkweather continues today as the defense seeks to convince a jury that Starkweather was insane during a murder spree last January.

Defense Counsel T. Clement Gaughan began reading one of Starkweather's long statements Thursday. Starkweather listened briefly, then went to sleep.

The 19-year-old gunman has signed statements and written letters offering differing recollections of the killing of 10 persons.

In some he indicated he killed all 10. But in one letter, he accused his girl friend, Caril Ann Fugate, 14, of one killing.

Breast Cancer Control Gaining

CINCINNATI (AP)—Very promising results have been achieved in experiments toward control of breast cancer, the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Assn. was told.

Dr. Elton S. Cook and Dr. Leo Nutini of the Institutum Divi Thomae, Cincinnati, working as a team, have been making the experiments.

Dr. Cook, dean of research of the Institutum, told of giving a "killed cancer" dose to a particular variety of mice, of which 70-80 per cent of the females are prone to breast cancer.

Cancer susceptibility was reduced to 20 per cent, he said.

Kidnap-Slayer Gives Self Up

FARMINGTON, Mo. (AP)—Billy Glenn Newhouse, wanted for the killing of his uncle and the kidnapping of three persons, gave himself up late Thursday.

One of the kidnap victims was stabbed. Another, his former girl friend, said she was raped.

Newhouse, 21, is accused of the gunshot-killing of his uncle, James Huskey, 58, of nearby Desloge, the robbery, kidnapping and stabbing of a filling station operator and the kidnapping of Linda

Reid Rawlins and Archie Moore Jr., 25.

Such a Proposal Needs Serious Thought

All of us here in Washington C. H. and Fayette County as well as people all over our whole state and nation, should be giving some sober thought to the proposals being brought forward at this time to provide a four - day work week.

Whether we like the idea or not, this plan which most people formerly regarded as rather ridiculous, has become a full-fledged proposal brought out by some groups as one way to end the present so-called "recession."

The danger behind it lies in the future. Once this is started and generally accepted for a time, there probably will be future pressure to make it a permanent thing, with demands that pay for four days should be as much as for a former full week's work.

This brings up the question whether Americans are actually beginning to insist upon too much leisure time for their own good.

As a temporary "emergency" measure it might help get more of industry back toward full time production, but unless well controlled and understood to be only temporary, it might result in a demand that everyone should not work as much as they have been used to doing.

If we desire to protect the standards which have helped our country to become outstanding in the world, we must remember that it was ambition and the desire to work on the part of most people which brought this about.

Most ideas for great change take root and grow in periods of crisis, whether such crises be real or imagined. Sometimes such changes prove for the better, other times just the reverse.

There's little denying that the trend has been toward a shorter work week. Automation in some industries is having a great impact on the labor force. Furthermore, the population is steadily increasing creating a greater demand for jobs.

Many factors will have to be taken into consideration before the four - day work week becomes an accepted part of our economic pattern. For one thing, workers will have to be educated to utilize their additional leisure time in a constructive manner. If the extra non - working hours are spent in idleness there may be an increase in crime and a further deterioration in our standards of social behavior.

The proposal, now that it is being pushed, may require a great deal more study than the average person thinks. Perhaps eventually we've got to consider it, and we might as well get started now. Such a revolution in daily living does not come hastily and surely needs examination from all angles.

Diet and Health You're Poor Sleeper? Redecorate Bedroom

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

IT'S ABOUT time for your annual spring housecleaning and decorating chores. Certainly I am no interior decorator. But I'd still like to give you a few tips about painting and papering an important section of your home—the bedrooms.

Should Be Restful
They should be designed as a restful spot, not a gay one. You'll be surprised how much easier it is to fall asleep in a properly decorated bedroom.

Wallpaper or painted walls should be blue or green. They are much more soothing than yellow or red. Paper should be soft-tinted and should have a simple pattern. Wild figure patterns might be "noisy" enough to keep you awake.

Gray or Buff
The right color woodwork is important, too. I advise against a shiny, high-gloss white paint for the bedroom. Rather, use a flat gray or buff paint.

There's a lot to say for wall-to-wall carpeting or large rugs in the bedroom. If they cover the entire floor, and are dark-colored, they will absorb both light and sound.

As for window shades, the dark green shades are preferable to the yellow or tan colored ones. The latter are apt to be semi-transparent and will admit more light than the darker colors.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — We need some shock absorbers to help us withstand sudden surprises.

Twice in less than a year this country has been dealt bewildering shocks for which it was unprepared.

If they could happen—in the way they happened—perhaps we're in for more shocks undreamed of yet.

Both shook American self-confidence—good, in a way, since there's so much complacency in the self-confidence—but both damaged confidence in America abroad.

Within eight months these were the shocks:

1. The sudden realization—when the Russians lifted their first Sputnik last October—that they were ahead of us in rocket development.

2. Now the sudden realization—after the treatment given Vice President Nixon in Latin America—that there is some intense, violent anti-Americanism there.

The Sputnik surprise stunned the country into critical, painful self-examination. The Nixon episode will do the same.

There was a Senate investigation of our missile program to find out what we needed to catch up. The result: intensified effort.

Now Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) will lead a Senate investigation into why we were not more fully aware of the anti-American feeling in Latin America.

The vice president himself, when he returned home Thursday, called for a reappraisal of our policy towards Latin America.

It's no tribute to our knowledge of what's happening in the world that we'll make the reappraisal after, and not before, Nixon went into a situation which might have caused his death.

There seems hardly any excuse for such failure to know how many Latin Americans feel toward this country and what they might do to show it.

Two government agencies—the State Department and the Central Intelligence Agency—above all others are supposed to gather such information.

Both are headed by the Dulles brothers: Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Allen Dulles, boss of the CIA.

It is more understandable that the CIA and the State Department would have greater trouble learning about Russian rocket development.

But there were more shocks than one in the launching of the Sputnik for it revealed the tremendous Russian development in industry, science, education.

For instance: the last Sputnik, sent up Thursday, is so huge it makes the three American satellites look like peanuts.

It's a gruesome reminder that if the Russians can develop a missile powerful enough to carry aloft a satellite that size, they must have enormous capacity to do us damage in a war.

Rock 'n' Roll Irks Jazz Fans

NEW YORK (AP)—Sorrow comes in time to many fine old families. But the tragedy that has befallen Louis and Elaine Lorillard of Newport is indeed almost unbearable.

Their only two children — Pierre, 8, and Didi, 11 — are rock 'n' roll fans.

"We are doing our best to convert them," said Elaine bravely, "but so far we have had no luck."

What makes her plight even more ironic is that she and her husband, an agile offshoot from the proud old Lorillard tobacco tree, are perhaps America's leading missionaries for a pre-rock 'n' roll type of music—the one known as jazz.

In fact they are famous for having brought jazz to Newport, the sedate Rhode Island seaside resort where they dwell in a mansion so large Mrs. Lorillard never has found enough free time to count its rooms.

Until 1954 the most notable music in Newport was the soft slap of surf on sand, the gentle murmuring of hardening arteries and the vague noises of dear old ladies reading the novels of Henry James aloud to cure their insomnia.

But in that year the Lorillards staged the first of a series of annual jazz festivals there.

The barriers of the Old Guard—their loggnettes—were raised at once in an icy wall against the invasion.

"The resentment wasn't so much against the music, as the fact the town was overrun all at once by 3,000 visitors," said Elaine. "But the tradespeople were happy."

"We were boycotted for a time occasionally, in a very subtle way. I think that's all over now, but frankly I don't care."

The truth is that many of the Old Guard have swung the other way. Many are looking forward to the fifth jazz festival this summer, at which 60,000 visitors are expected.

It will be featured by a specially created international youth band, made up of young jazz musicians from 17 foreign countries, including two from behind the Iron Curtain. Its concert will be recorded by the Voice of America and broadcast overseas.

"This should be very exciting," said Mrs. Lorillard. "To many Europeans jazz is the only form of culture America has produced."

Elaine, a pretty blonde who wears blue sunglasses (what other color would be suitable in Newport) and a diamond ring that would blind an owl at midnight, is now known by the trumpet-toting set as "the First Lady of Jazz."

It was a common interest in this form of music that sparked the romance of Elaine and Lorillard. They met in Europe during World War II. She was a Red Cross worker. He was a major.

Throw Dem Bums Out!

A major difficulty facing immigration and other authorities is to get out of the country those who came into it illegally, or those who, having been admitted, abused their stay.

Most countries behind the iron curtain, for instance, do not accept such expellees, which means that they remain in the United States because they have nowhere to go.

One case now pending has attracted considerable attention. William Heikkila was admitted at New York for permanent residence on June 9, 1906. He registered as an alien on Dec. 12, 1940, admitting membership in the Communist party. Although he had been in the United States since 1906, he first applied for naturalization at San Francisco on June 13, 1945. This application is still pending.

An effort was made on Jan. 4, 1948, to deport him as an alien member of the Communist party. Heikkila appealed to courts; appeals rejected. He was given a deportation hearing by the Immigration and Naturalization Service which on Dec. 16, 1949, ordered him deported. The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals overruled prior court decisions and deportation hearings started all over again.

Thereupon commenced lengthy proceedings in courts, in hearings before the Immigration Service, year by year, lasting from 1948 to the present, for a period of 10 years.

The Heikkila case has been before the Supreme Court of the United States several times: Sept. 3, 1952, he filed an appeal with the United States Supreme Court; March 16, 1953, the Supreme Court dismissed his appeal; April 27, 1953, his petition for a rehearing was denied by the United States Supreme Court. After going through other courts, he files a certiorari to United States Supreme Court; May 16, 1955, certiorari denied.

On May 17, 1955, Heikkila having exhausted every judicial means, started all over again with the immigration authorities. He had had his day in court, he had lost.

On Oct. 26, 1955, after a hearing he was again ordered deported. Again the appeals started. It was as though there had never been any appeals before, as though his case had not gone all the way up to the United States Supreme Court and had been rejected.

Heikkila or his lawyers have actually worked out a new gimmick in the law, namely, they go back to the starting point after each defeat and go right through the same judicial process up to the United States Supreme Court. This can go on forever or as long as the guy lives and has money to hire lawyers.

The only practical way for the immigration authorities to function is to seize the expellee the moment he is without judicial protection and literally give him the bum's rush. This was done in the cases of Michael Spinella, Joseph Accardi and Giuseppe Gagliano. Spinella, a proved racketeer, was ordered deported by Attorney General McGranery.

On June 30, 1957, 493 orders for deportation had not been executed. The Immigration Service comments in its 1957 report:

"... But the troublesome cases are those where deportation is delayed and delayed. One major problem is the refusal of countries to issue travel documents for: deportation. More than half of cases in the inactive category are for persons from countries in the Communist orbit, for whom travel documents are not available."

The question must arise why these people want to stay in this country. A Communist is committed morally and intellectually to the proposition that the United States is an imperialistic country, a warmonger, an exploiter of the worker and the enemy of the worker's paradise, the socialistic fatherland.

Such a person can only wish to remain here for one of two reasons: 1. Either he does not believe what he says is true but has a private and perhaps sinister reason for advocating what he does not believe; or, 2. He is sincerely and devotedly employed in the overthrow of our form of government and our social institutions by whatever manner he believes to be most available to him.

He should be given his day in court, but does that mean 10 years of continuous and repetitive administrative hearings and judicial trials?

At a certain point, such conduct must be regarded as capricious and contemptuous.

True, our sense of justice requires that a man exhaust his opportunity for appeal, but is not a decision by the United States Supreme Court the last resort?

How many times can a man go ring-around-rosie?

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Recently while exploring the former city dump south of the Pennsylvania Railroad and east of Sycamore St. along the north side of Paint Creek, I picked up a chunk of conglomerate sandstone—rare in this community.

The heavy matrix of sand and iron, filled with nearly white quartzite pebbles, proved that it had been brought here by the last ice sheet which came down from the northeast many thousands of years ago.

There are only two places where such formations are found in abundance in Ohio. One is the famous "Nelson Ledges" in Portage County, northeast of Akron which I have visited, and the other, the Sharon conglomerate, is largely in Jackson County, particularly in Limerick Valley, where the stone is blasted out and used for roadbuilding.

Most of the Jackson County hills contain a layer of sandstone one to four feet in thickness, which is shot through with the quartzite pebbles—all rounded off by ages of rolling about on the bottom of an inland sea—or otherwise weathered until rounded.

The Jackson County deposit is not so firmly cemented together with iron and sand as the Nelson Ledges, and, as a result, both may be readily identified.

By studying rocks a geologist can obtain some extraordinary information as to their origin, and movement from place to place when in the path of a glacier, for instance.

FOXES NUMEROUS

From various parts of the county I hear reports that foxes are numerous, regardless of the bounty paid.

for their feet—a thing which has greatly reduced the numbers of the sly animal during the last 20 years.

It seems that the foxes are denning in woods, along creek banks, in old gravel banks, and other favorable spots where their habitat is not visited frequently by man.

I know of one woman on Route 35, west, who quit raising poultry two years ago, saying that what chickens the skunks and racoons did not kill early in the season, the foxes got later on.

FAST SCHOOL BUSES

Three times in recent weeks I have been started by the speed of school buses filled or nearly filled with children.

In one instance I checked the bus which passed me, and it was moving 60 miles an hour—too fast for safety considering the number of lives at stake and the likelihood of accident.

Another passed me while I was driving 50 miles an hour, and I followed it at 55 miles an hour for a distance of nearly two miles.

Fortunately, most of the buses travel at reasonable rates of speed.

"HANDLEBAR MUSTACHES"

Less than 50 years ago, and for a long time prior to that, "handlebar mustaches" were quite the thing with many men.

They were so called because those who wore such hirsute adornment, allowed the whiskers to grow so long that the ends drooped at each side of their mouths.

These long whiskers seemed to come into style about the time men ceased to grow full beards, and continued until a comparatively few years ago.

If fact, occasionally, we still see a set of handlebar whiskers which, of course is nothing against the person who chooses to wear his mustache in that style.

There is a big difference between the thin line of short stubby hairs on the upper lip of many men today, and the bushy, long mustaches of yesteryear.

Until around 75 years ago so many men wore full beards that they were in the majority rather than the minority, and a man of 30 could readily be mistaken for one of 50 years. A face without a full beard appears much younger than the hairy face.

20 YEARS AGO

Thousands flocked to the city for a celebration of the sesquicentennial of the Northwest Territory Settlement, and large numbers attended the pageant at night. Company M stood traffic guard, and more than one motorist, halted by a soldier asked: "What's the trouble in Washington C. H.?"

The mercury dropped to 28 degrees on the 12th and caused extensive damage to crops.

The Leo Witt home on Harold Rd. burned with part of household goods and a granary.

Parallel parking was approved for Court St., and was to be put into effect at once.

Bloomington won the county-wide athletic tournament.

A drive for $3,500 for the YMCA ended with $3,875 subscribed, and the "Y" board employed John W. Hudock, Cincinnati, as the new secretary.

Eber Burris, Clinton County, found under a tree on the Snow Hill Rd. near Rattlesnake Creek

Jailed on Mother's Day, This Mother Shows Spirit

CALDWELL, Ohio (P) — One thing you can say about Mrs. Frances Seamster — she's spirited.

The slight, bespectacled mother of four children and wife of the former village mayor was jailed Mother's Day for refusing to pay a traffic fine. She is still in the clink.

Last Sunday, Mrs. Seamster made an illegal U-turn. Hailed by the town marshal, Lawrence Macenko, she refused to heed a summons and drove off.

Macenko arrested her at home. She was brought before Mayor Eddie Bailey and fined $5 each on charges of making an illegal turn and refusing to obey a law officer. On top of that she was ordered to pay $9.40 in costs or a total of $19.40.

Mrs. Seamster refused to pay and was ordered jailed for seven days. She gets out Saturday. She spends most of her time reading big, heavy text books for government and history courses she is taking at Ohio University.

As far as Mrs. Seamster is concerned, it's all a matter of principal.

You see, it all started when she refused to pay a $2 parking ticket. And Mrs. Seamster said she refused to pay the ticket because they passed that pesky old parking ordinance just so she couldn't park on a side street by the church.

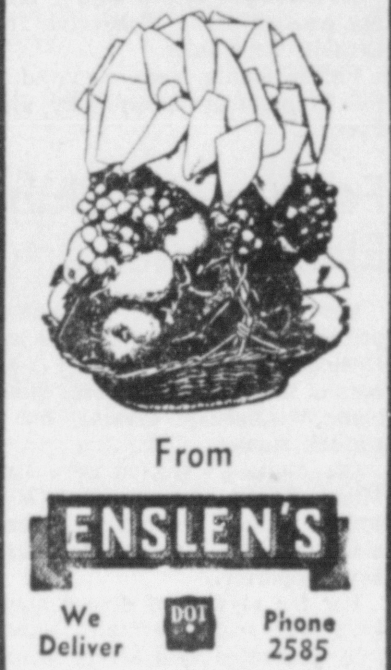

And they didn't want her to park on that side street because this property owner didn't want her car out in front of his house. And the property owner—

Well anyway, it's as we were saying—Mrs. Seamster has spirit.

Eggs have the same kind of high quality protein found in meat and milk.

Rosin is graded and sold on the basis of color, the paler colors bringing higher prices.

School Marm, 22, Heading For African Summer Safari

SEATTLE (AP)—It pays to be a good schoolteacher these days.

Pretty Billie-Marie Gannon, 22-year-old junior high school teacher, can testify to that. Because she's such a good teacher she's going to have an adventure beyond her wildest dreams this summer. As winner of a national contest conducted under supervision of the National Education Association, Billie is going on an African safari. Says she:

"I'm really orbiting over this—doing loop-the-loops through space! Who ever said school teaching was dull?"

Miss Gannon's trip will include stops in New York, Brussels, Paris and Rome as well as Kenya, Tanganyika, Uganda, Sudan and Egypt. The climax will be a climb to the peak of Mount Kilimanjaro to search for the tomb of King Menelek, son of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. She will be accompanied by John Goddard, African explorer and a member of the faculty of Brigham Young University, whose wife also will be a member of the expedition.

Currently Goddard is overseeing Billie's preparations for her great adventure. These include swimming lessons at a Seattle club, shots for everything from tetanus to typhus and a daily stint of walking, to get her in condition for the 20 miles a day she will be hiking in Africa. He also is advising her on clothes and equipment which will be needed for the safari as well as the stops in big cities. This must include city clothes and cocktail dresses as well as such things as mountain boots, waterproof parka, bush hat, mountain cap, bush jacket, khaki slacks and swim suit.

Everything will be easily washable. Dresses will be of permanent-finish nylon. And it all has to go in one large bag and one overnight case of lightweight aluminum, total weight not to exceed 60 pounds.

Up to now Billie has lived in Seattle with her parents, and never has traveled more than 200 a teacher awards program open to all elementary, junior high and high school teachers throughout the country. Her trip is one of 31 travel awards offered by the "Bold Journey" television program. The trips are educational tours planned and supervised by the National Education Association.

Current Slump Cuts Deeper Than Last Two

Whether It Lingers
Longer than Others
Remains To Be Seen

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The third post-war recession already has outstripped the other two in the sharpness and depth of its fall. Whether it also will last longer is still any one's guess—although currently it shows many signs of doing so. Today's industrial setback has many of the characteristics of the previous dips—and some significant differences. So far it bears little likeness to the prewar slumps of evil memory. The drop in industrial production and in the total dollar value of goods and services is greater this time. So is the total of unemployment and the percentage of the labor force laid low.

The cutback in business spending and the trimming of inventories are much the same as in the 1948-49 and the 1953-54 recessions. And this leads many observers to believe that the 1957-58 recession will end much the same way as did the others and leave few lasting scars.

This time the pattern of consumer spending is different. And so is that of government spending. And this causes other observers to hold that today's unpleasantness will prove to be quite different from the earlier ones which were chiefly inventory and production adjustments.

Personal income has dipped more than in 1953 but less, so far, than in 1949. But this time more persons are eligible for unemployment and other benefits and the total of such financial aid is much higher.

Here are the comparisons of the three recessions in essential fields:

In 1948-49 industrial production dropped 10 per cent from its peak and the slump lasted one year. In 1953-54 the drop also was about 10 per cent and the duration about the same.

Since the December 1956 record high of 147, the industrial production index has dropped to 126 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This is a drop of 14 per cent in 16 months. (Washington, however, says the recession officially started last August when the industrial production index was at 145). This would make the drop 13 per cent. The 1954 low points was 123 and the 1949 low point 90.

The drop in 1949 in the gross national product — the total value of goods and services — was 3.2 per cent; in 1954 it was 2.7 per cent; and this time so far it's 4 per cent — down to 422 billion dollars a year from last summer's record peak of 440 billion dollars.

The ranks of the jobless swelled to a little over four million in 1949 and to 3 1/2 million in 1954. The total is now carried at more than five million, representing 7.5 per cent of the civilian labor force, against 5.6 per cent in 1954.

Personal income totals shrank by 1 1/4 billion dollars in 1949 and by 3 1/4 billion in 1954. Today's figures are down 4 1/2 billion from last August's record annual rate of 342 1/2 billion dollars.

Consumer spending fell 1 1/2 billion dollars in 1949 and nearly two billion in 1954. It's off about 2 1/2

Swimming Pool Here To Be Opened May 30

Plans for the customary May 30 opening of the Washington Park swimming pool on Oakland Ave. are well under way, now that warm weather has arrived.

Already, the parking area has been gone over and put in shape. The entrance has been given a new layer of hard surface material and the remainder of the area another covering of crushed stone.

Some dead trees have been cut down and hauled away as an additional safety precaution as well as to lend more beauty to the picnic area in the woods and near the tiny lake back of the pool.

Painting of the buildings has been started and the pools, both the main pool and the little one for the kiddies, will get their new coats the latter part of next week, weather permitting.

SEASON memberships are now available. Those who held memberships last year will be receiving statements concerning this year's membership as in the near future.

Membership cards, including those for associate members may be picked up from Roy Hoffman, 721 Yeoman St., from May 19 through May 28 and at the pool any time after that.

Hugh Rea, the pool manager, gains this year, and Hoffman, the assistant manager, pointed out that the removal of the city admissions tax until the end of the year, will cut the cost of memberships 3 per cent. Master membership fees have been set by the board at $12.10, including federal tax, for this year. Associate memberships will be $2.20, including federal tax. However, the price of guest tickets has been increased slightly to meet the increased cost of operation. Those for adults will be 65 cents and for children 35 cents.

The staff for the pool is now complete, Rea said, with the employment of 10 personnel.

SWIMMING instruction will be offered to members again this year. Classes will be under the direction of Mrs. Robert Green, as in the past.

Due to the large number expected for the various classes, swimming in the mornings will be restricted to those taking lessons. The pool will open for classes at 9:20 a. m. and for general swimming at noon.

There will be one exception: Youngsters too small for lessons, and who do their "swimming" in the "hallow kiddies" pool, and their parents will be admitted in the mornings.

The time schedule for the different swimming classes, Mrs. Green said, will be all set up within a day or two.

The pool will open officially May 30 at 1 p. m., the time for every Saturday and Sunday during the summer.

By that standard Chet Huntley should have an absorbing story Sunday when "Outlook" presents a 90-minute examination of "Israel: The Next 10 Years."

When he returned from Israel with director Jack Sughrue and cameraman Tom Priestley, Huntley had high enthusiasm for Israel's democratic army and its growing atomic energy program. They will be the chief substance of Sunday's "Outlook."

"Man for man the Israeli army is the best in the world, says Huntley. "Its chief problems involve materiel, not manpower, for almost every Israeli, women as well as men—is a member of it. It is one of the biggest factors in the Middle East, yet few westerners know much about it. "Another thing very few Americans realize is the vitality of the Israeli atomic energy program. It's not concerned with bombs, but with such things as growing tomatoes without water. It produces, for example, the world's purest heavy oxygen, much of which it exports to other countries."

Speaking of serious-minded efforts on television Sunday, CBS-TV will present another in its "Great Challenge" discussion series with a symposium on "What Makes Effective Foreign Policy?"

Participants include Lester B. Pearson, leader of the Liberal Party of Canada; Eric A. Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America; and three former members of the U. S. State Department, Dean Rusk, Paul H. Nitze and Robert R. Bowie. Howard K. Smith is the moderator.

Reuther Directing Auto Conferences

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther was back in Detroit today to direct United Auto Workers Union strategy in the climactic stages of contract talks with the auto companies during the next two weeks.

The union has advised more than 300,000 members in General Motors locals to be prepared to report for work as usual after the current GM contract expires May 29 even if no new settlement has been reached.

Reuther has said the union has no intention of accommodating the companies with a strike when they have a backlog of more than 750,000 unsold new cars.

Taft reported to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown that his expenses were $101 more than he received in contributions.

Taft racked up 36 per cent of the Republican primary vote in losing the nomination to Gov. C. William O'Neill.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The southwest section of the Ohio Science Education Assn. is proposing a plan to put the nation's science teachers to work—at summer jobs connected with the subjects they teach or with which they are connected.

A. F. Forance, chairman of the section, said the plan has been submitted to Dr. L. V. Ginger, president of the National Education Assn., and Dr. Robert Carlton, chairman of the National Science Teachers Assn.

Trujillo Not First Foreigner To Sway Glamor Girls in U. S.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr. is not the first dashing foreigner to sway the hearts of Hollywood's glamor girls, nor will he be the last. Few have been as lavish as young Trujillo, with his gifts of costly cars to Kim Novak and Zsa Zsa Gabor.

Gloria Swanson can be credited with starting the foreign invasion. In 1926, she returned from Europe in triumph, with her new husband, Marquis de la Falaise de la Cour-dray. The union lasted five years, after which Constance Bennett took over as the marquis.

The marquis was followed by the marrying Mdivanis. These were three handsome, romantic sons of a Mohammedan Bey of Georgia, a Caucasian state in old Russia. The princes married and divorced often, usually to famous and wealthy women. Among the matches: Serge-Pola Negri; David-Mae Murray; Alexis-Barbara Hutton.

Sudden death took two of the princes—Serge at polo and Alexis in a Spanish auto crash. David has lived quietly in recent years as husband of the adopted daughter of oilman Harry Sinclair.

Aly Khan created plenty of news with his international courtship of Rita Hayworth, their marriage, their divorce. His romances have included other dolls, such as Gene Tierney and Kim Novak (that name again!).

Natural Resources Parley Told Ohio Getting Crowded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's rural areas are getting too crowded—at least for those who want to preserve some of the natural resources of the state.

Those attending the governor's Mid-Century Conference on Natural Resources Wednesday heard reports that:

Ohio farm and forest land is being turned into cities and suburbs at the rate of 42,000 acres of land a year.

Hunters are turning in their rifles for fishing rods. Too many hunters in the field in too cramped a space are making the sport dangerous.

Unplanned city expansion onto rural land can endanger the future production of an adequate food supply for our vastly increased population.

"At the rate open land is being gobbled up for all sorts of uses around our cities, the next 10 years will see the end of many desirable areas that should be preserved," Walter Tucker, director-secretary of the Columbus Metropolitan Park Board, told the conference.

Ohio's Wildlife Division is experimenting "with a multiple-use concept for public lands which may eventually open many acres to outdoor 'recreation' for purposes other than hunting and fishing," Wildlife Chief Hayden Olds reported. He continued:

"Adequate funds and adequate knowledge will be needed in the years ahead to provide more concentrated recreation on less land. Within the next 10 years, it undoubtedly will be necessary to increase the cost of basic hunting and fishing licenses and to charge additional assessments for special services provided."

Urban expansion is also causing a water problem.

Tahlan Krumm, a Columbus consulting engineer, told the conference:

"The supply of water available to Ohio is abundant enough to meet any future demands if the water is properly controlled and developed. Ohio's water problem stems not so much from an insufficient supply of annual precipitation as what happens to the water after falling on the land."

Krumm said the state needs to develop an over-all water policy that will include adequate control of river and stream pollution, flood control, research and exploration of new underground supplies, and adequate storage facilities.

Sardine is the commercial name for any small fish put in oil.

Cuba has about the same area as Louisiana.

WCH To Meet Bloomingburg In 'Official' Opener Sunday

After limbering up with a practice round against Mt. Sterling last week, the Washington C. H. squad in the Southwest Ohio loop goes into real action this week with a home game against Bloomingburg.

The Bloomingburg nine lost to Chillicothe's Businessmen last week while the Lion were trouncing Mt. Sterling.

Milledgeville, Fayette County's other entry in the eight-team SWO loop, will play at the Chillicothe Federal Reformatory Sunday. Mt. Sterling will meet the Chillicothe Businessmen, and Greenfield will play Blanchester.

All games start at 2 p. m., with warmups set for 12:30 p. m. Tom Smalley, league secretary and manager of the Washington C. H. entry, announced that he's determined an official squad list for his team, on the heels of last Sunday's practice game. These are the boys and men who have worked out with the team this spring, and will carry the brunt of the effort this summer.

THEY ARE:

Calvin Cornell, outfield, Roy Woodrow, infield, Joe Henry, infield, Bob Strouth, infield and outfield, Jim Conner, first base, Howard Boggs, infield, Ronnie

Woody Hayes Says Bucks 'Pretty Good'

Rose Bowl Champions
May Be 'Blinded'
By National Spotlight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's Woody Hayes, 1957 coach of the year and boss of the Big Ten and Rose Bowl champions, isn't planning to rest on his laurels.

He said today the Bucks would be a "pretty good football team next fall," but warned: "We'll be standing in the middle of the national spotlight, and we can't let it blind us."

Cognizant of the fact the football scribes are handing the Western Conference title to Ohio on a pre-season silver platter, Woody observed:

"I don't blame the sports writers for picking us. They are reflecting the thinking generally. But it's impossible to see how a team will finish. Not once in the last seven years has the team picked to take the title actually won it. There are six or seven teams which could take it all this fall."

Hayes hinted his team would do a mite more passing next season than it has the last few. "You'd be surprised how many pass plays we started last fall," he said. "We use a lot of option plays in which the quarterback makes a choice. We try to pass to an end if he's open early. If he isn't we forget him and try to find an open halfback. If they're covered the quarterback runs the ball—and Frank Kremblas covered a lot of ground with it last fall."

Woody went on to say: Don Clark, the breakaway runner from Akron, is completely healed from the injury which kept him out of the late-season games last fall.

Andy Okulovich, third string quarterback behind Kremblas and Jerry Fields of Coal Grove, is turning pro and won't be around next fall.

Dave Kilgore, the sophomore place-kicking specialist from Dayton, has been booting 50 to 60 times each evening, and seldom misses.

On the conversion angle, the majority of teams will go for two points on the run or pass play early in the season, and will make it 30 to 40 per cent of the time. Later they'll be booting one-pointers.

John Dresser of Toledo, who led the state in scoring as a high school senior, probably will be moved from halfback to end.

Jim Houston, the Massillon end, could be the Bucks' best wingman in seven years.

Dan Frank of Dover is one of the top centers in the country, and came out uninvited for the Buck squad—for which anyone can get a suit.

Bob White, the big Covington, Ky., kid who wrecked Iowa singlehanded last fall, is one of the best fullbacks the Big Ten has ever seen. With Mike (Fireplug) Ingram of Bellaire backing him up, the fullback berth is in good shape.

The big problem is defense... the line is shaky in spots.

Any great contest is won in the fourth quarter. The first three are window dressing. If we go into the last quarter even, we can win. I believe in the boys I coach, and they live to win.

Time Is Ripe for Redlegs To Decide on Pennant Role

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The time has come for those Cincinnati Redlegs to decide whether they are to be contenders in that National League pennant race. They open a four-game series at home against the world champion Milwaukee Braves tonight.

It was a year ago today that the Redlegs busted into the NL lead for a stay of almost a month. Now they're fifth, 5 1/2 games behind Milwaukee.

The Redlegs lost 18 of 22 with Milwaukee a year ago and have lost four of five to the champs this season.

It was a three-game sweep by the Braves last weekend in Milwaukee that started the Redlegs on a five-game losing streak that didn't end until they managed a 9-4 victory over Pittsburgh Thursday.

The Braves were trailing 3-1 when Thursday night's game was postponed by first-inning rain at Philadelphia. That left Milwaukee in shaky command of first place—by .024 percentage points over the San Francisco Giants, who ended the St. Louis Cardinals' winning streak at seven, 4-2.

Last place Los Angeles ended its losing streak at six—longest since 1950 for the Dodgers—with an 11-inning, 4-2 victory at Chicago.

The Redlegs had to come from behind at Pittsburgh after leading 3-0. George Crowe drove in five runs for the Reds, clouting a two-run homer in the seventh for a 5-4 edge that ended the Pirates' winning string at six.

Bob Friend lost his second against five victories, leaving in a four-run ninth capped by Crowe's two-run single.

Willie Mays hit his ninth homer, eighth in six games for a 1-0 lead in the first for the Giants and Jim Davenport's triple made it 3-0 in the second as unbeaten Mike McCormick won his third with relief help. Lindy McDaniel lost his third in five decisions although the Cards outbit the Giants 11-9. Stan Musial was 0-for-4, losing 21 points for a 479 average.

A walk and slow motion fielding by catcher Sammy Taylor and losing reliever Hersh Freeman on two bunts handed the Dodgers two runs in the 11th. Clem Labine, making his first regular season start since Sept. 29, 1956, was the winner—his first victory since beating the Cubs in relief last July 21.

Little Ned Garver, whose 20 victories for a last place club now are all but forgotten, is back in business again as the pitching ace of the Kansas City Athletics. It was in 1951 that Garver, a baby-faced kid of 25, was 20-12 for the old cellar dwelling St. Louis Browns, who won but 52 games that year.

Garver, who stands 5-10 1/4, has had only one winning season since 14-11 with Detroit in 1954, but now he's 4-1 with the A's after collecting his second shutout with a seven-hit, 3-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday.

Cleveland moved into a fourth place tie with Detroit, belting the Tigers 8-5 in the only other game played. Baltimore at New York was postponed because of rain.

A three-run homer by Vic Power, following singles by Mike Baxes and Hee Lopez, broke up a scoreless duel between Garver and Jim Wilson at Kansas City. It was Power's second homer, both off the White Sox right-hander, now 3-2.

Roger Maris drove in three of the first five Cleveland runs, two with a third-inning double and the other with a fifth-inning homer—his fourth in three games. The sophomore outfielder has hit seven homers for the season, six at Detroit.

Don Mossi (3-3) relieved Ray Narleski in the fifth and gave up one run on two hits for his second victory in two days. Five of Detroit's eight hits were for extra bases—homers by Gail Harris, Lou Sleater and Frank Bolling and a double and triple by Harvey Kuenn. Billy Hoelt (3-2) lost it although giving up but one hit—a Mickey Vernon liner that cracked the Tiger lefty on the foot and put him out of the game in the third.

USTA Hearing Set for Monday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A hearing before U. S. District Judge Mel G. Underwood will be held here Monday in the federal anti-trust suit against the U. S. Trotting Assn.

The Justice Department claims the association has a stranglehold over harness racing in the country, and can exclude horse owners, drivers, trainers and other racing officials from taking part in harness racing activities.

The association has asked the government to be more specific about what information it wants the association to produce. The government objected to the association's request and Monday's hearing is being held to sustain or dismiss the government's objection.

Irked Kid's Gunplay Costs Coach a Leg

BANNING, Calif. (AP) — A high school football coach has lost the leg that was shattered by the blast of a shotgun in the hands of a student. Doctors amputated Arthur Linden's left leg Thursday. He was reported in satisfactory condition. Linden, 31, was shot May 1 by James Johnson, 15, after he had reprimanded Johnson for fighting with other students. The youth faces a juvenile court hearing.

American-Venezuelan Tennis Test Awaited

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The United States opens its bid to regain the Davis Cup today with Venezuela furnishing the opposition in the first round of the American zone tennis competition. Ham Richardson of Washington, D. C., opens the best-of-five series against Venezuela's Iyo Pimentel. Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, then meets Marcos Gambus. They reverse opponents Sunday.

Changing The Subject

By JACK AYER

GUEST IN THE HOUSE

Well, we must admit we feel a little like the gentle spinster who entertained Charles Evans Hughes, now that the Jeffersonville High School baseball team has gone and won itself -- and us -- a district baseball championship. We think it is necessary to go back to the 1952 Washington High School football squad to find a team that has attained such notoriety as the Jeff nine. We want to break out all the best linen and the heirloom silver, but we still don't know if we'd be giving our honored guest their due.

For all we know, Hildreth's squad may fall victim to a hard-playing Perry-Zane outfit in the very first game of the regional tournament Friday. But even if they do, they've already cut a swath like unto nonesuch hereabouts.

Middleport, their opponent in the crucial district finals last Saturday, was the state titlist last year, and the fact that Jeff had the honor of taking them out of the running for a repeat is reason enough to give the Tigers a place in the sun, at least for the moment. Their presence in the "Sweet 16" teams who have reached the Class A regionals takes on especial significance because of the quality of their opposition.

We admit that we don't know much about the Perry-Zane club that Jeff will meet Friday, except to say that they come from Zanesfield in Logan County (near Bellefontaine) and had to overcome some tough competition to get into the regionals. But we do suspect this much: they probably have about the biggest team playing in any baseball tourney this spring. In case no one remembers, Perry-Zane was the outfit that boasted it had 18 basketball players over six feet tall this winter.

Didn't help them with a state title then, though.

May not help them now, either.

DEPARTMENT OF TIGHT SQUEEZES: Reports were slow in leaking out, but we happily proclaim that this newspaper can now supply exclusive details of an indoor wrestling match unparalleled even in these troubled times. Participants were a two-inch fingernail, aesthetically attached to the hand of a Record-Herald staffer, and a stubborn, grasping girdle, just as securely attached to the same staffer. The undergarment threw a full nelson on the talon in the powder room and the harried staffer had to summon aid to tear the contestants loose. The finger nail, one of a matched set, was the big loser.

Circleville Nine Tops SCO Loop

Hillsboro Victim
Of 12-4 Trampling

HILLSBORO — (Special) — The Circleville Tigers won their third straight Southcentral Ohio League baseball championship here Thursday with an easy 12-4 win over Hillsboro's hapless Indians.

Circleville thus finishes its league season with an 8-0 record, and claims a 12-3 overall mark.

Mike Hosler pitched six-hit ball for the Tigers and also batted a home run. Circleville's Harry Strawser was 3-for-3 at the plate and Bill Purcell tripled with the bases loaded.

The Indians tied the game in the second and went ahead, 2-1, in the top of the third. But the champs bounced back with another tieing run in the bottom of the third, and moved into the lead to stay in the bottom of the fifth.

The Tigers added six runs to their total in the sixth, and three more in the seventh frame. Five errors—their highest total this season—marred the Indians' performance.

Sam, Ben, 2 Kids Pace Snead Test

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — The old guard of Ben Hogan and Sam Snead marched in step at the head of the parade with the younger set of Stan Mosel and Garv Player today as the golf tourney honoring Snead went into the second round.

The contrasting quartet stepped off a brisk pace for the 33 other pros in Thursday's opening round of the 72-hole tournament.

Hogan and Mosel went at a clip of 65 strokes on the par 70 course. Snead and Player were only a stroke behind. Hogan and Snead are approaching their 46th year. Mosel is 26, Player 22.

Pre-Schoolers Spend Day at Eber School

Nineteen boys and girls who will start school for the first time next fall spent Thursday at the Eber School. And, every one of them was accompanied by his mother; one father was there, too.

They came about 9:30 a. m., stayed for lunch and went home when classes were dismissed for the day.

They were welcomed by Principal Eldon Whiteside and then registered by the room mothers, Mrs. Howard Ault, chairman, Mrs. Carl Wil, Mrs. Alvin Sexton and Mrs. Argus Holbrook.

The room mothers also arranged for the cube steak lunch prepared by the school's regular cooks, Mrs. Delbert Carr and Mrs. Charles Burke.

The cafeteria was turned over to the first graders, the pre-school children and the guests for lunch. The other pupils came in afterward.

"It was really an orientation," Mrs. Emerson Chapman, the first grade teacher, explained. She assigned one of the 20 first graders to each of the pre-school children to act as little hosts and hostesses for the day.

In order to give the newcomers some idea of what to expect next fall when they start school, Mrs. Chapman followed fairly closely the daily classroom routine during the morning.

After lunch, there was an entertainment by the first grade boys and then the kiddies were taken to the playground, where they were taught how to use the playground, equipment and some basic safety measures. Several of the school administrative officials spent most of the day at the school, too. Among them were J. Herbert Perrill, vice president of the Miami Trace board; Miss Hattie Pinkerton, visiting teacher of the county district; Miss Jean Everhart, secretary to W. J. Hilly, county superintendent; W. W. Boyer, administrative head of the Miami Trace district; Mrs. Boyer; Mrs. Beth Goldsberry, Miami Trace secretary; Mrs. Walter Thompson, clerk of the Miami Trace board.

Ad Offers High Price for Poison Ivy

CINCINNATI (AP)—A classified ad which appeared in the Cincinnati Enquirer this week stirred up a lot of calls and inquiries.

The ad said: "Wanted to buy — poison ivy leaves and stems, up to 1,000 pounds, 35 cents a pound."

The calls came from farmers, suburbanites, orchardists and gardeners who usually spend a lot of money trying to get rid of poison ivy and now were being offered cash for it.

Some inquiries were from persons wanting to know what anyone wanted with poison ivy. E. M. Espy, production manager for Lloyd Bros. Inc., who inserted the ad, explained it all. His firm manufactures a tincture from poison ivy to make persons immune to the poison. Heretofore it has been sold mostly through a doctor's prescription but now it can be bought in a drug store.

Espy said he had more than 30 calls in a day and a half and two men, who offered to bring in fresh plants in 400-pound lots, got the job.

One inquiry was, "How do people pick poison ivy without being affected?"

Espy said that's simple — some people aren't allergic to it and they never have any trouble.

Then there was the question, "Isn't 35 cents a pound for poison ivy a little high?"

To that Espy said, "Well, we didn't expect so great a response."

Meg, Townsend Visit at Tea Again

LONDON (AP)—It wasn't mentioned in the royal court circular today but that man called on Princess Margaret again for tea.

And, Group Capt. Peter Townsend told a reporter, he expects to see the princess a third time before he leaves England again sometime next week.

A spokesman for Buckingham Palace said Townsend's visit Thursday to Clarence House, where the princess lives with Queen Mother Elizabeth, was a "private visit—that's all."

It was Townsend's second call at Clarence House since he returned from his world tour. He had tea with Margaret and the Queen Mother March 26.

Elm St. Bridge Reopened after Repairs Made

The S. Elm St. bridge over Paint Creek was reopened at noon Friday, after having been closed two weeks for repairs.

Charles P. Wagner, county engineer, said after a final inspection that "this is a fine job." However, he pointed out that the bridge is still restricted to a 12-ton load limit; before it was repaired, the limit was 10 tons.

He also pointed out that truck drivers should use caution and not attempt to pass another truck on the bridge. Two under-limit trucks on the bridge. Two under-limit trucks on the bridge at the same time could put the total load over the 12-ton limit, he explained.

During the past two weeks, the floor was practically rebuilt. It was raised 4 inches and new approaches built. New steel floor joists were put in and a new Armo-co steel floor laid and covered with asphalt.

The joists were put in by the Champion Bridge Co. of Wilmington, but the rest of the work was done by the regular crew of the crew of the county engineer's department, Wagner said.

The engineer estimated the cost, including materials and labor, would be approximately $8,500. The project, which will be paid for by the county, was approved by the commissioners.

Wagner said the bridge will be painted in the near future.

The street was closed between Washington Ave. and the Robinson Rd. while the work was under way.

AAUW Directors Plan for Future

Plans for the year ahead were outlined, but not completed, by the directors and directors — elect of the Washington C. H. branch of the American Assn. of University Women at their meeting Thursday night at the home of the president-elect, Mrs. Frank Mayo.

Several of the committees and study groups were named, but they will not be announced until the others are appointed.

Mrs. Colin C. Campbell, president of the AAUW here, and Mrs. McCoy Gardner, a delegate, reported on the district convention in Cincinnati April 25-26.

Preliminary plans for the annual banquet, which will be held June 9 in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church's parish hall, were laid. Details will be worked out later.

This meeting will be the last until next September, when the new officers will be installed.

Hall Drug Store Making Changes

Remodeling of the Hall Rexall Drug Store, 115 W. Court St., which began soon after the first of this year, is now nearing completion.

Nearly $6,000 has been spent enlarging and moving the prescription department, eliminating the fountain, and installing new "gondola-type" floor display cases, according to Wilbert Hall, proprietor.

Removal of the fountain helped gain 200 square feet of additional floor space in the store. Mr. and Mrs. Hall have employed this space to give customers more aisles for self service and browsing.

Lines of cosmetics and other articles have been extended. The sign outside the store is new. The installation of air conditioning is being considered.

Pennington Plant Host to 700 Visitors in Month

Nearly 700 visitors in 30 days! Busy with a daily production schedule, the big Pennington Bakery Corp. plant on Clinton Ave. still has taken time to be a polite host to that many callers.

Howard G. Wright, plant manager and vice president of the Pennington Corp., discloses that many of the 700 have been school children in teacher-led groups, but the guest list during the past month has included restaurant operators, food market owners and industry representatives interested in the high degree of mechanization at the plant here.

More than 100 members of the Stewards and Caterers Assn. of Columbus, made up of owners, managers, buyers and top chefs of Columbus' biggest restaurants, toured the plant Wednesday evening and then adjourned to the Country Club for a buffet supper.

Included in the group were five barbershop quartets, members of the Columbus SPEBSQSA chapter, who entertained as foursomes and as a glee club.

The Coopers were on their way to their home in Dyer, Ind., south of Chicago, after a two-day visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cummings of the Jonesboro Rd. and other relatives here, when the accident occurred.

In a telephone conversation with relatives here early Friday, Cooper said their car was hit by an approaching car. It went into the ditch and turned over three times, he said. He did not identify the driver of the other car or say whether he was injured.

The Coopers' four children were with Cooper's mother, Mrs. Martin Cooper, in Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cooper, also both former residents of Washington C. H., now live in Dyer, where the Carl Coopers have a greenhouse.

Tammany Hall Dumps Powell

NEW YORK (AP)—Tammany Hall leaders have dropped Rep. Adam Powell Jr. (D-NY) as a Democratic candidate for reelection, asserting for his support of President Eisenhower in 1956.
